WELCOME TO THE PEAK OF BICYCLES ENGINEERING

MERIDA Industry Co., Ltd. with its headquarter in Yuanlin/Taiwan and its R&D centre located near Stuttgart is one of the world’s biggest bicycle manufacturers.

At MERIDA branded products, the synergies of Asian manufacturing power meet perfectly German engineering heritage and experience. MERIDA bikes are available in more than 70 countries and proudly carry the label “Engineered in Germany”. Our customers, as well as the pro riders of the UCI World-Tour Team BAHRAIN-MERIDA, put their trust into the reliability and top performance of our products.

In order to strengthen our R&D team, which is based in Magstadt (near Stuttgart) even further, the MERIDA R&D Center GmbH is looking for a

BIKE DESIGN ENGINEER (M/F)

Besides the communication with the R&D team in our MERIDA headquarter and manufacturing base in Taiwan, your primary responsibility is the development of new bicycles as well as the evolution of existing projects. In order to do so, you will be creating 3D constructions of frames and components with the help of the CAD system CREO. For this demanding role, we are looking for applicants with a profound technical apprenticeship and/or with a degree (Bachelor/Master) ideally in mechanical engineering or engineering sciences. Further requirements are the extensive knowledge of the cycling industry and the ability to understand and work within technical contexts. To communicate your projects in the most direct way with our MERIDA headquarter in Taiwan, fluent and technical English is also required. You will be expected to travel multiple times a year to our production facilities and offices in Asia. Prior knowledge in the construction of ‘bike frames’ gained in the bicycle industry is highly desirable. You will fit into our team perfectly if you are flexible, communicative and a real team player.

Have we peaked your interest? If we have, then please send us your detailed application including a preferred starting date and salary expectations to:
